Re: Charles Ganske v. Louise Daphne Mensch
SDNY Case No. 19-CV-6943

Dear Judge Abrams:

This firm represents Charles Ganske, (the "Plaintiff") in the referenced matter.

In accordance with Your Honor's Individual Practices, I write to request an adjournment of the Initial Status Conference scheduled by the Court for October 11, 2019 at 3:15 PM. Despite diligent and repeated efforts, Plaintiff has been unable to serve the Defendant in this matter. Accordingly, I request an adjournment of the Initial Status Conference to a date convenient for the Court to allow the time to effectuate service of process on the Defendant.

Based upon the foregoing, I also write to request leave from the court for permission to effectuate service on the Defendant via email and/or Twitter. Plaintiff has exhausted all reasonable possibilities of serving Defendant the Summons and Complaint via personal service. In similar circumstances, Courts have decided that service by e-mail, Facebook and Twitter are acceptable means of alternate service when other prescribed methods of service were impracticable. Ferrarese v. Shaw, 164 F.Supp.3d 361 (E.D.N.Y. 2016), Baidoo v. Blood-Dzraku, 5 N.Y.S.3d 709 (2015).

Respectfully Submitted,

Milo Silberstein

MS/ew

cc: Mr. Charles Ganske

The initial status conference is adjourned to November 8, 2019 at 2:30 p.m.

Before granting leave to serve Defendant via alternative methods, the Court requires additional information. Plaintiff shall file a letter by October 11, 2019 explaining what efforts it has taken to personally serve Defendant and why an alternative method of service is necessary.

SO ORDERED.
